DRIVER AND TWO GIRLS, 2 AND 4, HURT IN CRASH

Three persons were injured, two of them so seriously as to require their admission to the Annie M. Warner hospital, and two automobiles were badly damaged in a collision on the Emmitsburg road a mile south of here Friday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock.

The most seriously injured is Mrs. Mary E. Guise, 60, Fairfield R. 3, driver of one of the cars. She was taken to the hospital by G. J. Kent, Fairfield, suffering with injuries to the legs, chest, neck and head. It was feared at first that her right knee and ribs on her right side had been broken, but X-ray examinations at the hospital this morning showed that no bones are broken. She suffered concussion and shock.

Mrs. Guise faces a reckless driving charge which Officer C. E. Waltemyer, of the local substation of the Pennsylvania Mator Police, has filed before Justice of the Peace Charles F. Redding, Cumberland township.

Less seriously hurt was Theresa Topper, also of near Fairfield, two-year-old granddaughter of Mrs. Guise. She had a cut on the forehead and other lacerations about the face. She was discharged from the hospital today. Patricia Topper, aged four years, a sister of Theresa, received only scratches that did not require treatment.

The Guise car is reported to have struck the rear of a large sedan operated by Grace C. Buschmann, Indianapolis, Indiana, and owned by Corinne Zwick, of the same city, an occupant of the car. Both machines were traveling toward Gettysburg when the Buschmann car slowed down and Mrs. Guise struck it in the rear.

Damage to the Guise car was estimated at about $125, while the Indiana car was damaged to the extent of about $300. Both had to be towed from the scene.

No one in the Zwick car was injured. They were completing a tour of the battlefield and were enroute to Uniontown to visit relatives before going to their homes in the mid-west.

VOTERS SLOW TO REGISTER TODAY

Registration of voters in Gettysburg lagged today with less than a score enrolling in all four districts by noon. Busier hours were expected between 7 and 10 o'clock this evening.

In the first precinct of the first ward, three electors were enrolled in the first hour. Only eight had been listed in the third ward by noon. The second precinct of the first ward had enrolled 12 voters—eight Democrats and four Republicans by 1:45 o'clock, this afternoon.

More persons registered up to noon today in the county commissioners' office in the court house than were enrolled in the four districts of the borough by the same hour. Ten Democrats and 21 Republicans registered there.

RELEASED FROM JAIL

Fred Charpacov, Straban township, was released from the Adams county jail Friday afternoon under $1,000 bail for his appearance Saturday, August 28, for sentence in court on a charge of burglary. He has pleaded guilty to stealing a shotgun from the home of William Lower, Table Rock, the night of July 23. Bail was set at $1,000 in a special order by Judge W. C. Sheely.

AUTO HITS POLE

Milton Jones, 23, colored, Philadelphia, was treated at the Annie M. Warner hospital early this morning for lacerations about the eyes and lips. He was hurt when the car he was driving south of here on the Emmitsburg road ran off the highway and hit a telephone pole. Jones said he had fallen asleep at the wheel.

Gas Pump Permits Needed by August 5

Harrisburg, July 31 (AP).—The state warned operators of gasoline pumps today to obtain operating permits by midnight August 4, or close down.

The Revenue Department announced today that the Motor Police will close the pumps on which the $1 tax has not been paid.

Charles M. Finley, director of the bureau of liquid fuels, estimated there are 6,000 stations still untaxed. The stations average three pumps each.

A fine up to $5,000 or a year's imprisonment or both may be imposed.

Prices Unchanged at Largest Mart of Year; 50 Stalls Used

Setting a new record for this year with 50 stalls occupied at the Farmers' market this morning, produce was offered in abundance to the hundreds of buyers who visited the establishment. Prices in general were about the same as those asked earlier in the week.

Sweet corn came nearer supplying the demand this morning than at any other session to date, but most of the hucksters had disposed of nearly their entire stock of roasting ears by 7:30 o'clock. Stowell's Evergreen corn brought 30 cents a dozen, Golden Bantam 20 cents, with corn being offered at some stalls at two cents an ear.

Huckleberries were plentiful today and were sold at 20 and 25 cents a quart box, while the supply of black and raspberries dwindled. Blackberries sold at 10 and 15 cents a quart. Raspberries were scarce at 15 cents for a quart box of the black variety, while the red berries brought 10 cents a pint box.

Cheese was sold for five cents a package.

New potatoes were on sale at many stalls at 10 cents a quarter peck and 20 cents a half peck. A peck cost 35 cents. At a few stalls the price on a quarter peck was 15 cents.

SENATORS FROM SOUTH REVOLT OVER HOUR BILL

Washington, July 31 (AP)—Senators Harrison of Mississippi and Connally of Texas led a band of southern Democrats today in an eleventh-hour revolt against a major Roosevelt objective—wage and hour standards.

They were trying to sidetrack the issue for this session by sending the Black-Connery bill back to the labor committee.

The administration leaders, however, predicted the measure would pass by a comfortable margin in the final vote, set for 3 p. m. (EST).

The rebellion emphasized that the rift in Democratic Senate ranks had continued despite cessation of the court reorganization fight.

Senators Byrd (D-Va.) and Smith (D-S. C.), long critical of the administration, helped rally the rebel faction. Some Senators said privately that Vice-President Garner was encouraging the group in one of

Amendment Rejected

Washington, July 31 (AP).—The Senate rejected today as it neared a vote on the administration's wage-hour bill a proposal to exempt from its provisions employes paid on a commission basis. The amendment was offered by Senator Davis (RPa) who argued that many workers obtained only a few days' employment at irregular intervals and would be handicapped by wage and hour regulation.

TRUCK UPSETS; SOLDIER HURT

Leo Conley, 18, of Pittsburgh, was admitted to the Annie M. Warner hospital Friday afternoon after a National Guard truck upset at Clear Springs.

Conley received a concussion. He is not in a serious condition and will probably be discharged from the hospital within two days.

The youth was a passenger on a truck convoy of the 107th regiment, Battery A, of the Pennsylvania National Guard en route to Pittsburgh from Indiantown Gap. Corporal Patterson reported to the motor patrol that something went wrong with the steering apparatus and the truck went out of control.

Other guardsmen in the truck were shaken up but none was injured. zbbb

Albright Funeral To Be Held Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Brady Albright, formerly of Gettysburg, who was murdered Wednesday near Catoctin, Maryland, by Charles Martin, will be held Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at Thurmont. The body has been held there by an undertaker since the shooting.

Mrs. Albright, who left Gettysburg a year ago, was one of the two woman victims of the gun of Charles Martin, Maryland mountain farmer who accused the women of robbing him of $2,100. The first victim was Mrs. Hannah Hahn, Thurmont. Martin then turned the gun on himself and inflicted a fatal wound as Maryland officers reached his home.

Officers have been unable to locate the allegedly stolen money and have concluded that Martin, who had been drinking before the shooting, had suffered an hallucination.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Betty Strausbaugh, Broadway, and Betty Yingling, Littlestown, were admitted as patients to the Annie M. Warner hospital.

LIGHTNING FIRES BARN SOUTH OF EMMITSBURG

Fired by a stroke of lightning, the large bank barn on the property of Russell Fisher, six miles south of Emmitsburg along the Rocky Ridge road, was destroyed by fire about 1 o'clock this morning while a severe electrical storm visited that section.

The barn, which measured about 60x100 feet, was completely destroyed with all its contents. Four horses were consumed and all the crops that had been harvested off the Fisher farm this season. A hog pen standing close to the barn also burned and several hogs in the structure died in the flames.

The cattle escaped, having been in a pasture near the barn when the bolt struck.

Emmitsburg and Thurmont firemen succeeded in saving a large wagon and machine shed that stood close to the dwelling house. The shed caught fire, but was not badly damaged. Firemen protected the dwelling house.

The loss was estimated by Emmitsburg firemen at about $8,000. They said Mr. Fisher carried insurance on the building and the crops.

Large Shed Destroyed

Fire destroyed a large shed, several small outbuildings and an automobile on the farm of Carroll Haines, near Taneytown, at about 3 o'clock this morning. The fire is believed to have been caused by a short circuit in the wiring of the car which was stored in the shed.

Taneytown firemen were called and saved the barn which stood close to the blazing shed.

COLLEGE GRAD AIDS PROBE OF STEAMER BLAZE

Fifty officers and crew members who fought fire and saved all but two passengers on the charred steamer City of Baltimore were called before a special federal inquiry board in Baltimore today to tell what they know of the blaze which left at least two dead.

The inquiry board, appointed just after the fire Friday, is composed of J. F. Staley, Department of Justice attorney; Commander H. N. Perham, of the Coast Guard, and Eugene C. Carlson, supervising inspector for the bureau of marine navigation and inspection.

(Staley is a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1899. He has been retained for some time as head of the admiralty division of the Department of Justice. He has been a frequent visitor in Gettysburg.)

A search of the waters around the beached hull failed to disclose any sign of the one passenger and one marine fireman still missing.

A. L. Stephens, president of the steamship company, said he saw some drums in the wreckage which "might have contained" alcohol, but that he would not be sure until he checked the freight lists. Among the other cargo, he said, were 20 new automobiles and a carload of sugar.

Scores of passengers and seamen among the 90-odd aboard were hauled from the bay by dozens of rescue craft.

J. S. Polikoff, of Aiken, South Carolina, and Abel T. Whealton, member of the crew from Crisfield, Maryland, were drowned and their bodies recovered. A passenger, H. Paige, previously reported missing, was located today in New York, inquiry officials said.

JAPAN TIGHTENS GRIP ON 2 CITIES IN NORTH CHINA

(By The Associated Press)

Japan tightened her grip on the north China province of Hopeh today by virtually surrounding the ancient capital, Peiping, and driving toward complete control of Tientsin, commercial gateway to the area.

Fighting broke out at the Central railway station in Tientsin when Japanese attacked a Chinese unit still entrenched nearby despite two days of heavy bombardment.

Attacking to clean up the region west of Peiping, where Americans remained safe in the legation quarter, Japanese sprayed retreating Chinese gendarmes with machine gun bullets. At some points the gendarmes resisted and stiff fighting resulted.

Northwest of Peiping, at Hsiyuan, 2,000 Japanese troops battled the 37th division of the 29th Chinese army. The only possible gap in the ring around the city was at Tungchow, 20 miles east.

Fate of the Tungchow Japanese garrison was in doubt, but reports indicated planes and machine guns routed Chinese gendarmes who attacked the post Thursday.

Some concern was felt for the safety of two Americans in the Tungchow region—Harry S. Martin, of Boston, and James A. Hunter, of Peoria, Illinois.

The Japanese army claimed control of the territory north of a line from Tangky, one of Tientsin's twin seaports, to a point 18 miles west of Peiping.

Reports from Nanking, seat of China's Central government, declared that the vanguard of Central Chinese troops advancing toward the trouble zone had reached a point only 12 miles from Japanese units moving south along the Peiping-Hankow railway.

At Tokyo, General Gen. Sugiyama, minister of war, declared Japan must be ready to settle the crisis by direct military action. At the same time, Komi Hirota, foreign minister, told Parliament the United States apparently did not intend to apply the neutrality law which bans sales of munitions to warring nations.

Cattle Re-Test to Start Monday in Three Townships

The first complete three-year retest of cattle in Adams county under the area testing plan will begin Monday in Cumberland, Straban and Mount Joy townships with three state-employed veterinarians at work.

Township committees have arranged for the transportation of the veterinarians as they conduct the test and then return three days later to learn the results.

It is not expected that those three townships will be completed next week. An average of about 15 to 20 herds can be tested in one day.

Doctor Barnes will do the work in Cumberland township, Doctor Graybill in Straban and Doctor Hartenstein in Mount Joy township. Farmers in those areas are being notified to have their cattle readily available for the test.

It has been estimated that about 16,000 animals will be subjected to the test in Adams county.

SENATORS FROM SOUTH REVOLT OVER HOUR BILL

its aims—early adjournment of Congress.

Some administration Senators, however, agreed with Postmaster General Farley that the split was only temporary and would heal after adjournment soothed ruffled tempers.

Farley told a Salem, Illinois, audience this week that "even the fiercest among those who are in opposition today" would be "fighting the Democratic battles of the future as vigorously as ever."

The wage and hour bill was the most controversial item remaining on the session's program. It would empower a board to fix minimum wages in interstate industries no higher than 40 cents an hour. The maximum work week could not be reduced below 40 hours.

Harrison made the most vigorous assault on the bill in Friday's Senate debate. He criticized it as "more dangerous to business than any that has been presented to the Senate."

Harrison, defeated last week for majority leader, criticized the authority which the labor standards board would have over industry. He declared:

"I don't want to give that much power to anybody. I don't want this board destroying businesses, large or small, by its administrative fiats."

Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith, Ruddy, bull-voiced South Carolinian, described the bill as "the last and final effort which if enacted into law will arrest, perhaps forever, the hope and prosperity of the south."

Two amendments limiting the scope of the wage and hour bill were defeated Friday.

The Senate first approved a proposal by Senator Reynolds (D-N.C.) to exempt from regulation firms employing ten or fewer persons. It later reversed its action.

Senator Explains Neutrality Law

Washington, July 31 (AP).—Senator Lewis (Democrat, Illinois), said today the United States could be at war with China or Japan, or both "within an hour," if it complied with demands for immediate enforcement of the neutrality law.

Discussing the administration's policy with regard to the Asiatic crisis, Lewis told the Senate:

"Those who are demanding that the United States enforce its neutrality law at once, fail to see that the moment we announce either one of the nations as the aggressor and declare both as being at war, our ships of trade delivering American goods in the Orient would at once be seized by either China or Japan, or both, as bringing supplies to the enemy.

"The American citizens would be seized and imprisoned, and then it is that America must go to the rescue of her people and her property, and this she must do by her American navy and America becomes at once involved in the war of China and Japan.

College Graduate on 3-Man Board Probing Steamer Fire

Haynie, an oiler listed as missing, died in the fire.

Capt. Charles O. Brooks, 59-year-old veteran master of the City of Baltimore, was the first witness of more than 30 officers and seamen to be called. He testified he had held a master's license for 35 years and commanded the ill-fated City of Baltimore for 19 years.

He devoted the early portion of his testimony to technical details about the ship's operation and regulations.

Thursday night, he said, the watchman on the frieght deck where the fire broke out was a substitute named Barnes. Barnes, he said, was making his second trip as a watchman, but was an experienced sailor.

Freight hatches were battered down, Captain Brooks testified, and the watchman had specific orders to allow no one near the cargo. Crew members are not permitted to smoke on the cargo deck, he added.

DR. APPEL DIES IN LANCASTER

Lancaster, Pa., July 31 (AP)—Dr. Theodore D. Appel, Secretary of Health under two Governors, died today after a heart attack. He was 66.

Doctor Appel was born September 8, 1871 at Lancaster. He was educated at Lancaster high school and Franklin and Marshall college. He became a doctor of medicine in 1892 at the University of Pennsylvania and practiced since 1896.

He served in the World war as a captain in the medical corps, directed a school of gas defense at Camp Benjamin Harrison and eventually became a lieutenant colonel. He retained that rank in the reserve corps.

Federal Judge May Fill Court Vacancy

Washington, July 31 (AP).—Predictions that a federal judge will be promoted to fill the Supreme court vacancy quieted speculation today over the availability of Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan.

The forecast came from two high administration officials shortly before Murphy's scheduled arrival for a week-end cruise with President Roosevelt.

Administration officials, who preferred to remain anonymous, pointed out that four or five of the federal court circuits are not represented on the Supreme bench. It would be logical, they indicated, to select a jurist from one of those circuits.

Picture Remembered 21 Years Leads to Arrest of Vagrant

He appealed from a 20-year-to-life sentence for the slaying of Samuel Drukman. He won a new trial, and the jury convicted him Friday night of first degree murder, a verdict that made the death sentence mandatory.

A motion to set aside the verdict was denied, and the 54-year-old defendant was returned to Brooklyn city prison to await sentence to the electric chair today.

Los Angeles, July 31 (AP)—Roy G. Ward, 38, was held here today as a suspect in the murder of Alfred (Jakie) Lingle, Chicago newspaper reporter, in 1930.

Chicago police reported they were unable to connect Ward with the murder. Ward was arrested here Friday on a bad check charge.

A band of terrorists held up Thomas Doherty and five companions before dawn. While three men kept the companions lined against a wall, the others bludgeoned Doherty with revolver butts.

30,000 Boy Scouts At World Jamboree

A United States contingent of 805 and 25 scouts from Mexico were in the uniformed ranks called to attention by Chief Scout Lord Robert Baden-Powell.

It was the greatest gathering in the history of scoutcraft, the first jamboree since the 1933 meeting at Godollo, Hungary.

GIANTS DEPEND ON HUBBELL TO SUBDUE CHICAGO

(By The Associated Press)

Carl Hubbell has to be right for today's game with the Cubs. If those Chicago clouters punch "Mr. Mealticket" Hubbell full of holes again, as they did last week, the Giants are going to have as much chance of tossing elephants around by the tails as they will of catching the Cubs at their current pace.

When the Cubs clouted their jinx, Harry Gumbert, for a 5-2 win in the series opener Friday, largely through the help the Giant fielders provided in kicking the ball around, the Terry Terriers were dropped four games back in second place.

If the Cubs clip King Carl, that supposedly red hot National league dogfight will be as free and easy as the American league business, where the Yanks are breezing along on a 6½ game edge today.

Given their first effective pitching in a week, and aided by Lou Gehrig's homer No. 20, murderer's row walloped the Browns, 8-2, Friday behind Kemp Wicker in their series opener. The second place White Sox, like the Athletics, were idle.

In Pittsburgh the Pirates put a story-book finish to one of the season's tightest pitching duels by scoring a run with two out in the ninth inning to top the Boston Bees 1-0. Dutch Brandt left-handed his way to a two-hit victory and bested old Guy Bush.

Lefty Lamaster, one of the year's better pitching rookies, hurled a five-hit shutout to give the Phillies a 1-0 win over the Cincinnati Reds in a night game. The Dodgers and Cardinals were idle.

Jack Wilson pitched hitless relief ball for two innings and then doubled in the tenth to drive in the run that gave the Red Sox a victory over the Detroit Tigers. Washington's Senators, combining their recent heavy hitting, pounded a couple of pitchers for 18 hits and a 13-2 conquest of the hapless Cleveland Indians.

WRITING NO KEY TO CHARACTER, SCIENTIST SAYS

Lexington, Ky. (AP)—Don't judge a man's character by his portrait or his handwriting, advises Prof. Herman W. Martin, of the University of Kentucky department of psychology.

While he believes there may be some truth in the old saying that the camera doesn't lie, "it doesn't say much either," Professor Martin says.

Tests conducted by his classes, the psychologist asserts, have demonstrated that it is impossible to judge general ability and character by a photograph and that handwriting is not an accurate means of analyzing character.

Leading Hitters In Major Leagues

New York, July 31 AP).—Batsmen found a "hitters' heaven" in the big leagues this week, with the top ten in each loop undergoing a major shakeup, headlined by Cecil Travis of the Senators, who took the American league lead away from Lou Gehrig.

Eight of the ten leaders in each circuit hit for .400 or better during the seven-day period ended with Friday's games. All 20 traveled at better than a .300 clip.

Travis, hitting .450 with 18 hits in 40 chances, boosted his mark 14 points to .376. Gehrig also was clouting better than .400 and wound up the week with a .378 season average for second place.

Ducky Medwick, still setting the pace for both loops with a .403 average, dropped seven points despite a close to .340 mark for the week.

Heaviest hitter for the seven-day stretch was Charley Gehringer, Detroit's classy second baseman, who belted the ball at a .522 clip to make his season average .350, which gave him fifth place in the American league. Others among the week's wallopers were Joe Vosmik, Browns, with 17 for 33 for the seven-day span; Billy Herman, Cubs, with 11 for 22, and Hank Greenberg, Tigers, 12 for 26.

William Penn Laid Out in 1741 'Manor of the Maske' (Adams County) As Home for Himself, Records Show

Interesting Facts of Early History Revealed in Article Written Expressly for The Times by Miss Beryl F. MacPherson.

MANY of you have, we imagine, at one time or another heard or read something about the Manor of the Maske. Have you wondered just what it was and where located? Probably you have so we are inclined to think that a brief history of this manor would be interesting to many people.

In the year 1736 William Penn purchased all the region lying west of the Susquehanna from the Indians. When this became generally known settlers began coming into and making settlements on the new section. There is no record or tradition to tell how and when they came. In 1739-40 Penn laid out, in what is now Adams county, a reservation for himself and family, the Manor of the Maske. The order for the survey of the manor is dated July 18, 1741.

However, a previous attempt had been made to survey this land. An old letter, dated June 17, 1741, from Zachary Butcher, a deputy surveyor, tells of the trouble he encountered when he attempted to make the survey. Evidently the Scotch-Irish who had settled on Marsh creek, objected very strenuously—and in the letter mentioned above the exasperated surveyor gives their names as follows: Wm. McLelan (McClellan), Jas. Farris, Mart. Black, Jam. McMichill, Robt. McFarson (McPherson) Wm. Black, John Fletcher, Jr., Jas. Agnew, Henry McDonath, John Alexander, Moses Jenkins, Rich'd Hall, Richard Fossett, Adam Hall, John Eddy (Eddie), John Eddy, Jr., Edw'd Hall, Wm. Eddy, James Wilson, James Agnew, John STeen, John Johnston, John Hamilton, Hugh Logan, John McWharton, Hugh Swainey (Sweeney), Titus Darby and Thomas Hooswick (Hosack).

No further effort was made, after this, to survey the manor until 1765. Through the efforts of James Agnew and Robert McPherson a compromise was arrived at that year. A concession was secured stating that the lands taken up prior to 1741 should be subject to "common terms" and that the others should be liberally treated. The boundaries were finally marked in 1766, and were made to include 43,500 acres instead of 30,000 as originally intended.

In regard to appearance and location the manor was a rectangular piece of land with one short line on the Mason and Dixon line. It was approximately six by twelve miles in size and contained 43,500 acres with an allowance of six per cent for roads. The manor included within its boundaries the whole of Gettysburg borough and Cumberland township, as well as considerable portions of Straban, Butler, Franklin, Highland, Freedom, and Hamiltonban townships. It is interesting to note that this manor was one of 54 such sections set apart in the Province of Pennsylvania for the special use and benefit of the Penn family.

The question has been raised as to the origin of the name "Manor of the Maske"? In the order for the survey the tract is described as being "On the branches of Maske creek on the west side of the Susquehanna." The mistake was evidently made by calling Marsh creek "Maske creek." Error was evidently a clerical inadvertance which when discovered was not supposed to be worth the trouble of correcting. Hence the name "Manor of the Maske."

Among the people given grants in the manor was Captain John Hanson Steelman. He was presented with 200 acres by William Penn. Captain Hance Hamilton's mills were located just beyond the north line of the manor. The Boyd family lived in the south west portion of the tract., while the Jamison family lived just north of the manor. The blockhouse that Hance Hamilton erected was a place of safety for his neighbors as well as a point of retreat in case of his having to fall back from Fort Littleton, also is just north of the manor.

We hope from this brief sketch that you will be able to picture the old manor, as well as some of the stirring events that took place within and around it.

FORM 3D UNION AT HERSHEY

Hershey, Pa., July 31 (AP). — A new national federation of independent unions aimed its membership campaign today at 40,000,000 American workers.

Delegates from more than a dozen states emerged from committee meetings near midnight and a spokesman announced unofficially he expected all details of the organization to be complete before the weekend.

Guards stood before locked doors as the committees whipped into shape by-laws and a constitution for the federation which one delegate has indicated would oppose both the committee for Industrial Organization and the American Federation of Labor.

A delegate who refused to be identified said the membership drive would begin at once.

The federation proposes to draw its membership from 40,000,000 American workers who are not organized or are members or unaffiliated unions.

The world carryover of American cotton was reduced from 13,000,000 to 7,000,000 bales between 1932 and 1936.

SPORTS AND WAR MERGING IN REICH

Berlin (AP).—According to district leader Helmut Stellrecht, writing for the Reichs Youth press service, "Sports are ever more tending towards military exercises. This may not apply so much to the older classes but it does to the younger ones."

"The athletic championships to be held at Nurnberg this fall will show how our lads are shaping for the army," Stellrecht said. "Every district in the Reich will be expected to send two picked teams of nine competitors for honors."

THE PRESENT

"CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS CROW!" called Willy Nilly.

"Present!" cawed Christopher from his nest. "I was just going to come down and see if I could be of any help to you."

"Why, Christopher, you are a thoughtful crow!" exclaimed Willy

Nilly. The crow perched on Willy Nilly's shoulder.

"Oh, how fine your corn looks."

"Do have a little."

"I wasn't hinting."

"Oh, I know that. I was just offering you some anyway."

"Well, if you really want to have me see what it's like," said Christopher slowly. He tried it. "It's excellent. You're a farmer and a gentleman and a friend—"

"Now, wait a moment," laughed Willy Nilly. "I have something else to tell you. While we were away a great enormous amount of food was left here by that old man of the mountain as an extra reward for us and what we did for him. We have enough to last the witer—and that s also taking into consideration all that the bears will want before their winter sleep. I've put it in the cellar and also in the trailer."

Christopher looked a little sad. It was wonderful to know that there was enough food, but he had been thinking of showing the farmers how clever he was in getting some corn.

"Well," he thought, "I'll have to use my crow brains in some other way."

But when he looked at Willy Nilly and saw how happy the little man was about the trip he had had, the present he had received and because everything was going so smoothly he felt ashamed that his crow heart could be so wicked.

Monday—"Strange Footprints."

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

LAUGHTER

I WONDER why it is, that there is not more of the thing that brings such joy, health, and companionship into the world. I refer to laughter.

How thrilled is the mother over the first smile of her baby—and then later when it laughs out loud!

The late J. M. Barrie wrote of his Mother that there was "no such laugh as hers save from merry children." And then he adds: "The laughter of most of us ages, and wears out with the body, but hers remained gleeful to the last, as if it were born afresh every morning."

Perhaps there is no medicine in the world quite as effective and spurring to the body, as well as to the soul, as this laughter, which is the most natural of human gifts. "Laugh, and the world laughs with you," said Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in her famous poem. Our troubles are uninteresting to others—but our laughs are.

I can never forget the laugh of a small town doctor who used to come to our house. My Mother was often ill and it was for her that this grand old physician would be called. He had a laugh that seemed to lift the roof of the little home right off and let in Heaven! No matter how full of pain that Mother of mine might be, his laugh brought a response to her face, and I always thought that the pills he left were harmless and that he knew it. The laugh did the trick. I wonder where that type of doctor has gone, for I meet so few.

During the darkest days of the Rebellion, Lincoln used to read from Artemus Ward to his Cabinet before discussing the grave questions before the country. They thought him crazy and light in mind, but he knew the power of laughter to unload the heart and clear the mind for serious travel ahead.

Laughter is like a shower. It freshens everything and everybody within its radius. It lessens burdens. It takes out wrinkles from people's faces. It puts spirit into the heart. It is the sunshine of the soul, breaking out!

FLAME TRAIL

By MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine impulsively hires Ted Gaynor, a jobless puncher. He helps her fight Josh Hastings, a "friendly" neighbor who wants to buy her ranch and marry Kay. Ted pummels Scrap Johnson, a cowhand who molested Kay. They shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings sneaks up and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. A girl named Marion finds Ted and her nursing saves his life. The sheriff arrests Ted on a tip unconsciously given by Kay. The cards are stacked against him at his trial for Scrap's murder. The sheriff is charging the jury when Kay protests the trial on a technicality.

Chapter 40

KIDNAPPED!

A confused hubbub broke out in the court room, and through it, Tom Runyon and Josh Hastings both tried to force their way to Kay's side.

The sheriff's pounding fist proved futile to stem the uproar. Pulling out his gun, he sent a shot shattering through a window.

"Silence!" he yelled.

In the stupefied moment that followed, Josh Hastings called out, "Don't listen to her! She's been suffering with concussion of the brain, and she's not right yet. She doesn't know what she's talking about."

"I do know what I'm talking about," Kay declared, "and I've brought my proof."

"You're crazy," Sam Cutter broke in. "Scrap Johnson was murdered a half a mile this side of the line. The monument's right there by the trail, on the way up to the summit."

"I know it is." Kay brought out a pamphlet, and held it impressively aloft. "But what you evidently don't know is that the summit where Scrap Johnson was murdered is a migrating divide. Wait! I'll read it to you from the latest U. S. geological survey."

In the stunned silence that followed, Kay read in a clear voice:

"'The summit is known as a retreating or migrating divide. Waters tributary to the Bitter Root river in Montana are capturing by evasion those of the Clear Water river in Idaho, so that the divide is slowly being shifted westward, adding to the territory of Montana, and diminishing that of Idaho. The existing divide is six to eight miles from the irregular line representing the original divide.'"

Kay looked up at Sam Cutter's baffled and astonished face. "That monument you spoke of marks the original divide. Actually, it is six to eight miles on the Montana side, and as Scrap Johnson was murdered only half a mile west of it, there's no question but that the killing took place in Montana."

"Let me see that book!" Sam Cutter demanded hoarsely, as a flood of excited comment broke out, everybody talking at once.

The only quiet person in the courtroom was Ted Gaynor, who sat, momentarily stunned at the unexpected turn of events. Relief at the delay and change of venue of the trial mingled with amazement that it was due to Kay.

Ted reproached himself for his aloofness that morning. She evidently wanted to atone for her betrayal of him, and while he could never forget that treacherous act, he at least should have seen her.

A sudden tense silence in the room brought Ted's eye back to Sam Cutter's face. Everyone was watching him as he read the pamphlet Kay had quoted from. With an abrupt movement, Sam Cutter threw the booklet on the table and crashed his fist down.

"This trial is adjourned," he announced in acid tones. He glanced over to where Zeke Farley was seated, gazing at him in stupefaction. "I'll turn the prisoner over to you whenever you are ready."

Totally disregarding the uproar that followed his words, he wrenched open the door of his office, which gave off the back of the room, strode in and slammed it.

Collapse In The Street

Kay pushed her way out through the excited crowd, pretending not to see Tom Runyon and Josh Hastings, as they tried to fight their way to her.

A sudden exhaustion flooded her as she gained the front door, and came out into the fresh air. She simply had to be alone to take stock of the situation!

Glancing over her shoulder, she saw Josh Hastings appear at the door. Tom Runyon was in the background, talking excitedly to two men who had buttonholed him, and were apparently giving him some unwelcome news.

Thankful that his attention, at least, was diverted from her for the moment, Kay started to run down the street toward the hotel, her one thought being to reach her room before a threatening dizziness overcame her.

At the far end of the practically deserted street, stood the rambling two-story wooden hotel, where she had taken a room, and Kay sped toward it.

Halfway there, the buzzing in her ears increased to a deafening roar, and an enveloping blackness sent her staggering ahead a few more steps before she fell in a dead faint.

A second later, Josh Hastings was beside her. Picking her up, he carried her a few yards to where he had left his car parked. He put her hastily and none too gently on the back seat, sprang in and drove off at high speed.

Black Prison

When Kay came to, her first impression was that the blackness which had overcome her was still around her. Then, as consciosness gradually came back, she realized that she really was in a totally dark place of some kind, with a dank, unpleasant odor.

A nameless terror brought Kay to her knees, on the damp floor where she had been lying. Groping about her, her hand came in contact with a cold piece of iron. She ran her hand along its surface. It felt like an old forge.

She grasped it to steady herself, and got to her feet, fighting with all her might not to give way again to the surging rumbling in her ears and the wild beating of her heart. At least, she wasn't bound and gagged!

She shouted aloud, and her voice resounded with a muffled roar against the low ceiling.

As her eyes gradually became accustomed to the dark, she reached out toward the wall, taking a few experimental steps away from the prop that had been supporting her. Her foot hit against a hard obstruction, and stooping down, she felt some pieces of scrap iron. She realized that she must have been brought into the cellar of some blacksmith shop.

Kay called again as loudly as she could. This time, heavy steps overhead responded to her call, and with mounting excitement she heard the thumping of feet descending some stairs. A moment later, a door some 10 feet away from her was pulled open. Josh Hastings appeared, framed in the dim light that penetrated through that doorway.

FIRE DESTROYS 4 CUMBERLAND COUNTY BARNS

Four Cumberland county barns were destroyed by fires started by lightning Friday night during an electrical storm.

Two horses were killed and the entire crops of wheat, hay and straw were burned in a large frame barn about two miles west of Carlisle along the old Chambersburg road.

The family of Bair Kerns, of Carlisle, R. 5, which occupies the house about thirty feet away from the structure, was awakened by a flash of lightning to find their barn ablaze.

Season's Crops Destroyed

The entire wheat crop was destroyed along with sixty tons of hay, all the straw, a hog pen, a number of nearby buildings and farm implements.

Two horses, eighteen hogs and all the cattle were saved by neighbors. A binder, corn planter and hay rake also were salvaged.

While the flames ravaged through the barn, members of the Union Fire company, of Carlisle, with its rural pumper, saved the house.

Wind, however, threatened to carry the fire to a nearby gasoline station of William Barrick and the barn of a neighbor, Floyd Mellinger, several hundred yards away.

Damage to the barn, which is the property of John Hemminger, of near Mt. Holly, was estimated at about $3,600.

Fire Near Shiremanstown

Another barn on the farm of Jerome Shoop, on the Trindle Spring road opposite St. John's Lutheran church, was destroyed by fire which four companies battled.

While the crops were lost, most of the stock was saved by neighbors. The dwelling about sixty feet away from the barn, was saved by members of the Washington fire company of Mechanicsburg and its portable rural pumper, with which water was pumped from a well, and fire companies from Camp Hill, New Cumberland and Shiremanstown.

The barn, a two-story frame structure, was rebuilt in 1896 after it had been destroyed by fire, old residents of the neighborhood said.

In a frame barn destroyed by fire one and one-half miles west of Enola along the Wertzville road, all of this year's and part of last year's crops were burned.

Ross Hoffman, owner of the property, and his son-in-law saved several cows and four mules, while firemen protected an implement shed, pig pen and a garage nearby. The Enola fire company, the Midway fire company of South Enola, and companies from West Fairview and Summerdale fought the blaze.

Mr. Hoffman estimated his damage temporarily at about $5,000.

Fire in North Middleton

Struck by lightning shortly before 11 o'clock, the two-story bank barn on the farm of Elsworth Kennedy in North Middleton township, seven and a half miles northwest of Carlisle, was destroyed by fire.

The Carlisle fire department was notified but could send no equipment because every piece of firefighting apparatus was in use at the other barn fire in the old Chambersburg road.

Two calves, eighty chickens, 160 bushels of wheat, 100 bushels of rye, five tons of hay, a wagon and plow were destroyed by the fire.

Kennedy was able to save four hogs, two horses, five cows and a few small farm implements before the building collapsed.

'PICTURE BRIDES' SUCCEED

"Washing" For Oil

Dr. Thomas G. Delbridge

WASHING sand or gravel for gold is probably the oldest process used by man in his centuries-old search for the precious metal. Now the principle of the washing process has been applied to another field to provide the motorist with high grade lubricating oils "washed" from the crude product.

"Improvement in the quality of lubricating oils through the solvent, or 'washing' process, has marked one of the most notable technical advances by the petroleum refining industry in recent years," says Dr. Thomas G. Delbridge, manager of the research and development department of The Atlantic Refining Company. "Use of new bearing materials and types of bearings in the new cars created the necessity for improved lubricants. By 'washing' the oil instead of following the older method of distilling it, the industry has been able to produce materially improved lubricants in which substances likely to sludge or form carbon have been eliminated."

The process of "washing" the oil involves the use of apparatus in which oil and solvent are mixed. The mixture is then allowed to settle. The solvent, containing impurities removed from the oil, settles to the bottom as one liquid layer, while above it is the purified oil.

ROADS OF WORLD PROJECT OPENED

Dearborn, Mich., July 31—The "Roads of the World," a half-mile roadway comprising sections reproduced from 18 historic world highways which have witnessed the march of civilization down through the centuries, was formally opened to the public today in the grounds of the Ford Rotunda, visitors' gateway to the Ford Rouge plant here.

Consular officers of countries represented in the roads, as well as highway and good roads association officials from the United States and Canada, took part in the dedication which followed an informal luncheon held in the executive lounge of the Ford Rotunda.

Invited guests included—Thomas P. MacDonald, Chief of the U. S. Bureau of Roads; Murray D. Van Wagoner, Michigan state highway commissioner; Clark Greene, superintendent of Public Works, and Frederick Storrer, city engineer, both of Dearborn; Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile association; Charles L. Weeks, president, and Richard Harfst, general manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan; Edward N. Hines, chairman of the Wayne County Road commission, and A. J. Gordon, president of the Essex County Automobile club, Windsor.

Also A. O. Bray, acting British consul; Maxime Rainguet, French consul; Fritz Hailer, German consul; P. Testaguzza, acting Italian vice-consul; Pierre J. Boeye, Belgian consul, and Carlos Balacious, Mexican consul.

GETS HIGHWAY POSITION

Harrisburg, July 30 (AP)—The Highway department today disclosed 168 personnel changes, including 116 appointments. Among the sixteen engineers, draftsmen and clerks were assigned to the South Penn tunnel survey for the super Harrisburg-Pittsburgh covered highway was Robert E. Myers, of Gettysburg, junior draftsman. Included in the promotions announced was Clair B. Deardorff, of Arendtsville, to senior construction inspector.

The term cloudburst first was u[illegible] in the United States about 18[illegible], and in India about 1860. It seldom is used unless at least six inches of rain fall in an hour.

TWO NEW TRUCK MODELS PUT OUT BY CHEVROLET

To meet the rapidly growing demand for commercial cars of varied capacities, Chevrolet has announced two new truck models, designed to fit in between the company's half-ton and 1½-ton trucks. The new models are known as the ¾-ton and the one-ton model, respectively.

The chassis of these new trucks embody the same mechanical features which combine to produce unusual performance, dependability, utility, and endurance in the Chevrolet truck line as a whole. Greater load capacity than that of the half-ton is achieved in the ¾-ton and one-ton models without appreciable sacrifice in economy of operation.

The new ¾-ton truck has a wheelbase of 122¼ inches, payload capacity of 1,500 pounds, and a gross allowable weight of 5,200 pounds with regular equipment. The one-ton model is available to increase payload capacity to 2,000 pounds and gross allowable weight to 5,800 pounds. This equipment comprises larger rear brakes, heavier rear springs, and new wheels and tires.

Cab and bodies of the new trucks are built for long, dependable service, and their appearance represents the latest in modern streamline styling. The regular cab, featuring all-steel construction, is used. It has split-type seat with adjustable back, standard truck instrument panel, and exceptionally good visibility from the driver's seat. Toe-board is identical with that in other truck models.

Bodies are available in Pickup, Stake Rack, and Platform, each designed to provide a large load platform, so located on the chassis as to effect proper weight and payload distribution. This equalizes stresses on the frame, increases the effectiveness of the front brakes, and assures more uniform wear on the front and rear tires.

So far as the bodies are concerned, the differences between the ¾-ton and the one-ton models in the three body types, and the corresponding models in capacities previously available, consist mainly of body dimension.

In producing the new models, Chevrolet greatly broadens the scope of its service to commercial transportation. The ¾-ton and one-ton trucks are offered with the conviction that they will fill a rapidly-increasing need in the business and agricultural world.

SUMMER SCENE AT SOUTH BEND

No press agent's gag—this is the real thing! While the rest of the world swelters (a good part of it, at least) this cool fellow whiles away his time in The Studebaker Corporation's engineering division playing Old Man Winter with test cars. This photo was snapped in the Studebaker cold room at South Bend, Indiana, where nature plays second fiddle to the mandates of automobile engineers, as they create their own winter weather for automobile tests.

SEEK JAPANESE-INDIAN TIE

Tokyo (AP). — To determine if there is an ethnic link between the North American Indians and the early Mongols and Japanese aboriginal races, a group of Japanese scientists is soon to make an expedition to the Kurile Islands, south of Kamchatka Peninsula.

Gold mines are often found by tracing "float," or pieces of ore broken from veins and washed downstream.

REVOLT AMONG FRANCO'S MEN, LOYALISTS SAY

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, July 31 (AP)—Spanish government sources asserted today that revolt was spreading through the Insurgent rear guard.

They declared that discontent had mushroomed into open fighting within Generalissimo Francisco Franco's forces at Motril and Malaga, on the southern coast.

The outbreaks were said to be similar to that which the Government previously reported within ancient Granada, another southern Spanish city, site of the famous Moorish Alhambra.

The Fabra (Spanish) news agency in a dispatch from Gibraltar said that bomb explosions could be herd within the ancient city and that Insurgent authorities were struggling desperately to localize the mutiny.

The agency said the Granada uprising came when Spanish soldiers were ordered from their barracks to make room for Italian volunteers under Franco's banner.

A radio broadcast by Gen. Queipo De Llano, one of Franco's chief aides, made an absolute denial of the reports of the Granada revolt.

Government reports were that the revolt had extended also into Franco's Biscayan army. The defense ministry said Government troops had heard a battle between two Insurgent groups on the Santander front, in northern Spain.

Insurgent airmen put an end to the conflict, it was said, when they roared overhead, machine gunning, dropping bombs and throwing hand grenades.

The Government reported Franco had pulled troops from other fronts and sent them to Malaga recently to quell Communist workers who had laid siege to the military headquarters there.

Several days later another group of Malaga workers barricaded themselves in a sugar factory and held it until a superior number of troops overpowered them and drove them out, said the Madrid advices.

National Guardsmen Quit Indiantown Gap

Indiantown Gap, Pa., July 31 (AP).—Pennsylvania's 9,000 National Guardsmen are on their way home today from the battle of the Blue Mountains—a two weeks' war with a phantom foe.

Led by their own commanders, under the eyes of Regular Army officers, the citizen soldiers practiced markmanship, drilled on the parade ground and worked out tactical problems of attack and defense.

At their home stations they will receive pay checks amounting to $1.50 a day for their time in camp.

INHALED GRASS

Philadelphia, July 31 (AP).—Nine-year-old John Freeman, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, was in Temple university hospital for treatment for a lung infection caused by blades of grass he inhaled while playing. Doctors said it might be necessary to remove the grass.

CHAIN STORE TAX DUE AUG. 4

Harrisburg, Pa., July 31. (AP). — Business men in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia were warned today to speed up their applications to operate under the new chain store tax law by midnight August 4.

A $50 fine for each day the stores, theaters and other business places operate without the permit can be imposed.

The stamp, store and theater tax division of the Department of Revenue reported that up to July 30, Pittsburgh had filed only 4,312 of a possible 24,386 applications and Philadelphia, 9,896 of 53,898.

B. Frank Swigert, chief of the division, said rural communities were filing applications satisfactorily, but the division found it necessary to zone Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to assist business men in applying.

Affidavits, required on every application, are made free of charge by the department's representatives. Agents have been assigned also to Harrisburg and Scranton.

The applications must be accompanied by checks for the amount owed under the chain store tax. The tax runs from $1 to $500, depending on the size of the chain.

GAS RATE PROBE

Harrisburg, July 31 (AP). — The Public Utility commission has indicated it would extend its investigation of natural gas rates and service to 104 companies serving 750,000 customers in 30 counties.

ASSOCIATED PRESS PICTURE NEWS

UPSEY-DAISY. They both made it. At the pictured moment it didn't seem likely. The young miss and the big dapple were participating in the jumping classes of the Tunbridge, Wells, England, riding show.

SIGNS OF WAR. These Japanese student aviators face the prospect of sudden call to active duty in the growing Sino-Japanese strife in the Peiping area. In the aviation school at Tokyo, the young birdmen receive thorough training in mechanics, flying telegraphy and in signalling, as shown.

NEW THOROUGHBRED. Douglas Scott, 11 (above), was given the part in the film, "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry," after a salary increase was demanded for Freddie Bartholomew, English child star.

'NAZI' FIGHTER. Rep. Samuel Dickstein (D-NY) holds what he told congress was an authentic document which tells of an oath of "fidelity to Adolf Hitler" given to American Nazi "storm troopers." He wants congress to investigate.

MILLIONAIRE'S MUG. America's Vanderbilt and England's Sopwith were ready to race again for the America's Cup, yachting's prized trophy which dates back to 1851.

BEACH MAILMAN. They called it the world's only aquaplane mail delivery when John Campbell, postman, took this letter from Mayor C. W. Lockrey of Manhattan Beach, Calif., for delivery to Mayor Louis Crandall of Avalon. It was an invitation to aquaplane races.

MICKEY CAN'T PLAY. Mickey Cochrane, ailing for two months since he was bean-balled, returned to the dugout to manage the Tigers when the team came to New York. There will be no more playing for him this season. He's shown with Hank Greenberg, first baseman.

PAPPY WAS TIRED. A little lion doesn't know or care much about the weather. When it got hot in London's zoo, an attempt to play ball with Pappa Jock was entirely unavailing. The old gentleman reclined himself somewhat listlessly, and with a firm paw put an end to such fatiguing effort.

APPLE ANTIC. Southern Negroes started it, just as they did the Charleston and "black bottom." Now Dixie swings to a tricky little routine they've named "The Big Apple." Here's a figure.

STRUT AND TRUCK. There's a little bit of everything in Dixie's "apple" dance. This may have been borrowed from ring-around-the-rosy, but there's also struttin', truckin', shufflin' and reels.

GIVING THE BOOT. It takes some high stepping and kicking to really accomplish this new swingin', stampin', dancing rage. These "apple" kickers are Evalyn Johnson and Johnny Campbell of Columbia, S. C.

DAINTY BUT DAFFY. It may look a bit childish, but take it from the young folks below the Mason-Dixon line, the "apple" dance is a good cure for blues. This is either the start or the finish.

MT. ALTO STUDY TO BE CONTINUED

State College, Pa., July 31.—Definite reassurance that the foresty instruction which has centered at Mont Alto under the supervision of the Pennsylvania State college since 1929 would be continued at the Mont Alto site was given today by Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of the college.

President Hetzel made this statement in answer to current rumors that all training would be shifted to the main campus at State college. The legislature recently passed a bill which was subsequently approved by Governor Earle ceding the property of the Mont Alto Forest School to the college.

Previously, under the terms of an agreement between the Mont Alto school and the college, facilities at Mont Alto were leased to the college by the State. The college has now taken possession of the property, and instruction at the Franklin county site will be continued and its physical plant improved, President Hetzel stated.

As a matter of fact, 105 freshmen to be admitted to the four-year forestry course and 35 students to be admitted to the first year of the two-year forestry course will be stationed this fall at Mont Alto, the Penn State head stated. The quota for two-year students already is filled and the quota for four-year students is nearly completed. These students will report to Mont Alto on September 13 and 14.

Flashes of Life

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ACCIDENT CHAMP

Beckley, W. V.—R. E. Pennington sprained his wrist Monday while working in a coal mine. He returned to work Friday and lost two teeth in another accident. A few hours later Pennington went back into the pit and a cable struck him in the eye.

PAPA HATCHES

Philadelphia. — Papa Rhea, a South American ostrich at the zoo, was a puzzled parent today. His wife laid six eggs, then went gadding about. Bird house kepers put the first egg under a peahen with maternal instincts. That egg hatched a Rhea. Papa Rhea today was sitting on the other five himself.

HOPPER MESSENGER

Des Moines, Ia.—A story of a grasshopper big enough to double as a carrier pigeon was told by a janitor in a downtown building. The janitor noticed the grasshopper apparently exhausted on the sill of an eighth floor window. Tied to it was a crumpled piece of paper with the following words written in pencil. "Nebraska grasshopper, county . . ." and the rest was torn off.

BRING 'EM BACK

Elgin, Ill.—Two policemen "captured" Frank Buck, famous huntsman, and brought him back to the Elgin police station. Buck pleaded guilty to a speeding charge and was fined $5.

Aerialist Shoots Wife and Kills Self

Long Beach, Calif., July 31 (AP).—A martial squabble and five pistol shots spelled the end today to the sensational career of Alfredo Codona, once internationally known "daring young man on the flying trapeze."

Codona, 43, only circus aerialist ever to do the difficult and hazardous triple somersault, shot and seriously wounded his divorced wife, Vera Bruce Codona, 32, and killed himself late Friday. Mrs. Codona's mother was the only witness.

The couple was at a lawyer's office to discuss division of their property. The lawyer had stepped outside at Codona's request.

Codona was star performer of "The Flying Codonas," family troupe which made several world tours.

Accidents killed Codona's second wife, Lillian Leitzel, and ruined his own trapeze career.

Miss Leitzel plunged to her death in Copenhagen in 1931 when a ring of her equipment snapped.

In 1933 Codona so seriously injured his shoulder in an act in New York that he never was able to make a comeback.

Codona had been in the garage business here recently, although he appeared in three films, once as a double for Johnny Weismuller in a "Tarzan" picture.

Beaver Valley Water Rates To Be Probed

Harrisburg, July 31 (AP).— The Public Utility commission will begin its investigation of the rates and water supply of the Beaver Valley water company at two hearings next week.

The commission held that domestic service charges were out of proportion to industrial rates. It also will determine whether the water is "turbid, contaminated and unfit for domestic use."

The hearing on the quality of the water will be held August 5, and on the rates, August 6. Both sessions will be in the Beaver county courthouse.

In both cases, under the utility law, the company must prove that its water is pure and its rates fair and reasonable.

AMUSEMENTS: HERE AND THERE

NEXT WEEK is benefit week at the Majestic theatre for the mosquito eradication project. It is not too late to buy your tickets, if you act yet today. They are available at business places. No tickets will be sold next week for the benefit. They will be honored at any show during the six-day period.

WILLIAM POWELL and Luise Rainer, both nominated for the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences award for best screen performances of 1936, are united for the third time in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Emperor's Candlesticks," which opens a two-day showing at the Majestic Monday.

Miss Rainer received her nomination for her performance as Anna Held in M-G-M's "The Great Ziegfeld"; Powell, who was teamed with her in that picture, for "My Man Godfrey."

Miss Rainer won her first acclaim following her screen debut with Powell in "Escapade," whence she soared to stardom.

"The Emperor's Candlesticks," based upon the best-seller novel by Baroness Orczy, is a story of spy intrigue that races across Europe at a madcap pace. The picture was directed by George Fitzmaurice, who surrounded Powell and Miss Rainer with a supporting cast of notable players including Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Morgan and Henry Stephenson.

Pennsylvania's fair season will open Monday with the beginning of the week-long Mifflin county exposition at Lewistown. Farm exhibits, running races, motorcycle races and a program by professional entertainers has been arranged.

THE fact that her picture is now frequently on the covers of national fan magazines since she became a screen leading lady is not exactly a novelty to young Joan Perry, Columbia player. For Miss Perry's picture, when she was an artists' and photographers' model in New York before entering movies, was often on the covers of such magazines as the "American."

Miss Perry, who has signed a long-term contract with Columbia, is currently featured as Richard Dix's leading lady in "The Devil Is Driving," coming to the Majestic next Wednesday.

LATEST addition to the teams which have written the screen's comedy history is RKO Radio's new team of Helen Broderick and Victor Moore.

Former vaudevillians, Broadway musical comedy stars of high rank, and Long Island neighbors for 15 years, Miss Broderick and Moore appeared together for the first time on stage or screen in "Swing Time."

The studio decided to keep them as a team, and now they make their bow as co-stars with marked success in the feature, "We're on the Jury," coming to the Majestic next Thursday.

"The public will never tire of seeing strong men on the screen, William LeBaron, managing director of production for Paramount declared the other day. And one of those "strong men" will be Fred McMurray who looks forward to his most vigorous role to date, that of a Union soldier in the forthcoming film, "Gettysburg."

MAX TERHUNE, on the "Three Mesquiteers," a trio familiar for their western roles to patrons of the Strand theatre, wrote the following to John D. Lippy, Jr., of Gettysburg, recently:

"Thanks a lot for your letter and clipping. We like it out here (Burbank, California) and I hope you liked "The Hit Parade." I joined Mystic 27 and Los Magicos. Have eight Westerns for next season and they are going to feature me in a feature picture, so they say. Your friend,

MAX TERHUNE.

Terhune and Lippy are both magicians of note.

FIVE letters which the late Rudyard Kipling wrote to his American mother-in-law, Mrs. H. Wolcott Balestier, in Vermont, from 1901 to 1907, were sold this year for $2,000 to a London literary firm.

The author, whose "Wee Willie Winkie," produced by Twentieth Century-Fox with Shirley Temple and Victor McLaglen, married Caroline Balestier, sister of the Wolcott Balestier with whom he collaborated on "The Naulahka" in 1892, and the letters had been continuously owned until this year by the Balestier family.
